CZOLGOSZ IS WAITING FOR THE FATAL CHAIR

State Officials at Auburn Prison Complete Preparations for Ending the Life of the Assassin of President McKinley at Buffalo.

SHOWS NO SIGN OF LOSING HIS NERVE

Will Be Strapped to the Electric Chair at 7 O'clock Tomorrow—Body Will Be Disposed of Quietly, and All His Effects Burned.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 27.—With no death chamber. There will be more feeling than an animal, Czolgosz in his cell this afternoon, less o'clock Czolgosz will be brought in through the iron door connecting the house of condemned prisoners and the death chamber. The warden or his chief deputy will lead the way and two keepers will come behind him. Back of these two will be Czolgosz, flanked on either side by a guard, who will hold him by the arm. If there is a priest he will walk just back of Czolgosz. Two other keepers will bring up the rear.

As soon as the party is inside the door it will be shut, so that the other condemned men may hear no sound. Czolgosz will be hurried to the chair and strapped in by experts. The electrodes will be strapped to his arm and leg. Before the metallic cap is put on he will be given an opportunity to speak if he so desires. It is not probable he will do so. The current will then be turned on.

Immediately after the execution, the clothing of the murderer, with the vast accumulation of mail that came to the prison for him will be burned. It is feared that the removal of the body to Cleveland would lead to scenes of an unfortunate nature and the prison officials are very anxious to avoid anything of the kind. The plan of burning the clothing and letters of the murderer will prevent the exhibition of relics by those who pander to the morbid.

Priest Visits the Assassin

Father Fudzinski of Buffalo was with him last evening. He came from Buffalo on a late train. After leaving the prison he said that Czolgosz was in a better frame of mind and more disposed to accept consolation. He would not say, however, that Czolgosz had repented. "He has admitted that if he had his life to live over he would be a different fellow," said the priest. "I have strong hopes for him."

Father Fudzinski said that the prisoner was in a morbid, highly nervous state, so paralyzed with fear that he is in a semi-stupor, which gives him an appearance of indifference. He volunteered it as his personal belief that Czolgosz was on the verge of a collapse and might be carried to the death chair.

Father Fudzinski would not say that he would accompany the assassin to the death chair. He would not say that the assassin had asked him to do so. He said he would offer his services and hoped they would be accepted. "He is a strange product, a puzzle," said the priest.

GROW ALL TOBACCO IN THIS COUNTRY

Move to Grow All Filler Leaf in the United States—Hunt for a Suitable Location.

Washington Oct. 28.—Secretary Wilson today announced that experts of the Agricultural Department will hunt all over the United States and its possessions for conditions favorable to the cultivation of filler tobacco such as is now raised in Cuba, so that if possible all the filler tobacco used in this country eventually may be raised within the boundaries of the United States.

"The United States," he said, "is now paying $8,000,000 for wrapper tobacco. We have succeeded in finding in this country the conditions under which all the wrapper tobacco we need can be raised here, and experts of the Department of Agriculture for the first time are seeking soils adaptable to the cultivation of the fine filler product. We have parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Texas selected for the investigation of our experts, and land for similar purposes will be selected in all our new island possessions with a view to ascertaining how and under what conditions the filler product can be built up here."

Steamer With Last Treasure From Klondike Arrives at Tacoma.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 28.—The steamship Dolphin today brought in the last Klondike shipment of the season amounting to $50,000. She brought here also 200 passengers who left Dawson Oct. 13. Three more steamers were to leave for White Horse on the following day. Ice was then running in the Yukon and indications pointed to the closing of the river by traffic by Oct. 25. This is much later than last year.

C. E. Lee of Evansville is in the city.

SCHLEY ADMITS TALKING TO EVANS

Under Cross Examination He Denied His Ship Had Passed 800 Yards Out of Action.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Admiral Schley resumed the stand for cross examination when the court opened this morning. He was asked if he had any conversation with Admiral Evans the day after the battle. He said he had and that Evans had said that the Iowa had shot the stern off one, bow off another and wrecked a third Spanish ship. He denied that the Brooklyn had passed more than eight hundred yards out of action, after making the loop. Before being turned over to Lemly Schley said: "The Brooklyn was one-fifth of our fighting force, she received 37 of the 62 or seventy per cent of hits sustained by our vessels."

Schley said his conference with the captains at Hampton Roads was devoted to the discussion of measures dealing with the enemy. He repeated that it was his idea to concentrate first on the leading ship of the Spanish squadron.

Replying to a question by Lemly he said that the enemy would have made a serious mistake had it attacked the American fleet in the line. He was not provided for such emergency but would have fought the Spaniards under signals. He did not put the order of the battle into writing. He said that none of the instructions from the navy department were exhibited to him by Sampson, he merely told him of them.

Vancouver, Oct. 28.—Incoming vessels report a fierce storm on the British Columbian coast, doing great damage to fishing crafts at Inverness, many buildings were blown down.

FEAR A REVOLT IN CITY OF MANILA

Elaborate Preparations to Defend Life and Property—Gen. Chaffee Issues Strict Orders.

Manila, Oct. 28.—General Chaffee has ordered that hereafter so-called practice parades shall be held here every week in which all the Manila troops will participate. The object of these parades will be to impress the restless population.

The military authorities have made elaborate preparations to defend life and property in the remotely possible event of trouble here.

The constabulary reports a fight with insurgents near Passi, Province of Iloilo, Island of Panay, in which twenty-five insurgents were killed and three captured, together with a quantity of arms and ammunition.

Hopeful reports are being received from the Island of Samar. It is anticipated that within the next two months the conditions there will show a marked change. The troops are not able to find the insurgents here except individually. Hence they are chiefly employed in preventing communication and destroying crops.

It is believed that the recent manifestations in the Island of Samar were chiefly due to the lack of food, the insurgents finding it necessary to make outlets to the coast in order to obtain this.

FAREWELL WEEK AT BUFFALO

Brilliant Demonstrations Closing Days of the Pan-American

Buffalo, New York, Oct. 28.—This is farewell week at the Pan-American Exposition and as such will crowd all manner of entertainment into a few days. Western New York will own the exposition on Wednesday. In addition, this will be exhibitors' day, and from all the various exhibits valuable and useful souvenirs will be distributed to the visitors. Saturday, the last day of the City of Light, will be fittingly celebrated.

hearing was given by Governor LaFollette this afternoon in the application for pardon of George H. Colgrave sent up for life nearly seventeen years ago for the murder of John C. Atkins in Wausha county. Atkins' wife and son were present to oppose the pardon which has already been refused by Governor Peck and Upham.

Population of New Zealand Cities.

The final census returns of the principal cities of New Zealand show that the population of Auckland is 67,273, of Wellington 49,292, of Christchurch 57,637, and of Dunedin 52,398. The increase of population since the last census ranges from 18.04 per cent in Wellington to 10.82 per cent in Dunedin.

Murder Was Unprofitable

Montreal, Que., Oct. 28.—"I killed a boy last night," said Tobin Hanson, a Dane, 35 years of age, to the officer in charge when he walked into Central police station today. "I killed him for money, and I only got 50 cents. That is not enough, so I came to give myself up."

Hanson described the locality in which the deed had been committed, and the police found the boy's body. It was identified as that of Samuel Mattole, a son of Samuel Mattole, a well-known spice and coffee merchant.

RURAL SERVICE GAINING FAST

Increase in Country Mail Delivery Has Been Phenomenal.

WILL BE EXTENDED

Larger Appropriations and an Advance in Pay of Carriers Proposed.

UPON A COUNTY BASIS

Washington, Oct. 28.—The growth of the rural free delivery service has been phenomenal. It started five years ago with an appropriation of $10,000, the first route running from Charleston, W. Va.

The appropriation for the service during the present year is $3,500,000 and the Postmaster General will ask congress to allow $6,250,000 for the next year. Congressmen who are taking particular interest in the service say that the appropriation will probably be greater than the Postmaster General will recommend and predict that $10,000,000 will be appropriated.

It is estimated that when the service has been perfected it will cover 1,000,000 square miles of territory and have over 30,000,000 patrons. On Nov. 1 there will be 6,000 routes in operation, one carrier to each route, and the natural growth of the service will increase the number of routes by the first of next July to between 8,000 and 9,000. Each carrier serves on an average 600 patrons. There were 4,298 carriers on the first of last July, so that within one year the service will have doubled.

Statistics being compiled for use in the annual report of the Postmaster general show that the rural free delivery service has materially increased the postal business in the sections where it has been introduced. The officials of the department believe that it is a question of a comparative short time when this business will pay the cost in the maintenance of the service.

Rural free delivery carriers are to receive the attention of congress this session; and it is practically certain that their salary will be increased $100 a year. They are now receiving an annual salary of $500 and have to maintain a horse and wagon.

The rural free delivery service is now being introduced upon a county basis. Where the conditions warrant, a county is selected and the routes established. It is found that by turning counties from the old service of star routes and fourth-class post offices about 75 per cent of the latter are abolished.

ELEVATED ROAD FROM MILWAUKEE

Third Rail System To Be Used, and the Speed Will Equal the Steam Lines.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 28.—T. W. Wheeler of Toledo, Clarence Darrow of Chicago and others interested in the elevated railroad franchise recently granted by the city, met in Milwaukee today, and while none of the persons participating in the conference would confirm the story it is reported by a city official that it is the intention to build a line not only to Lake Geneva and the country in the southern part of the state, but that the main line will be from Milwaukee to Chicago, and that surveys are now being made for that division of the road.

It is admitted by the owners of the franchise that the third rail system will be used, and that freight and passengers will be carried at a rate of speed equal to the steam lines.

When the elevated franchise giving the Lake Geneva company a terminal in the heart of the city was granted it was understood that a line for passenger traffic was only wanted and that is all that is provided for. However, it is planned to have freight terminals on the surface near the south city limits.

BADGER TEAM IS IN FRONT RANK

As was predicted some time ago the football championship of the west will be fought out between Minnesota and Wisconsin in the western section of the middle west, and Michigan in the eastern section.

The defeat of Illinois, which was the surprise of last week's play, and the defeat of Iowa have eliminated two factors in the championship, and left but the three names above are still undefeated. A post-season game is all that can decide the championship this fall, as it did two years ago.

The games Saturday of Kansas vs. University of Wisconsin resulted in a score of 50 to 0 in favor of Wisconsin; and Beloit vs. Notre Dame, the latter winning by a score of 6 to 0.

London, Oct. 28.—Government officials refuse to discuss the publication in Reynold's weekly yesterday of the confirmation of reports that the king is afflicted with a cancer.

THREE KILLED AT A GRADE CROSSING

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Passenger Train Strikes a Carriage Near Oakwood Station.

Milwaukee, Oct. 28.—Three people were killed and one seriously injured at a grade crossing near Oakwood station on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road by a south-bound passenger train leaving here at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The victims were:

BONZEL MAY, killed instantly.

PAULIFSKI, JOSEPH, killed instantly.

KANTER ANNIE, died in a few minutes.

BONZEL, MARTHA, badly cut and bruised, but will recover.

The four young people who live five miles east of where the accident occurred, had been visiting friends further west, and were returning home at the time of the accident. They were laughing and talking and did not notice the approach of the train until they had driven onto the track.

The engineer of the train saw them about the same time that the occupants of the carriage discovered the train. Paulifski, who was driving, attempted to get across the track, while the engineer applied the air brakes until the sparks flew in clouds, but nothing availed. The big engine, backed by its heavy loaded train, caught the carriage and horse and tossed them high in the air, throwing them 100 feet down the line. The train was stopped as soon as possible and hacked up to the scene of the accident.

Miss Bonzel and Paulifski were found dead and Miss Kanter lived but a few minutes after she was picked up. All were badly mangled. Miss Martha Bonzel had a miraculous escape, and will live, although her injuries are severe.

TO WIND UP IN A DRIVING FINISH

It Will Cost New York More Than $1 for Every Vote Cast in the Coming Election.

New York, Oct. 28.—Both Low and Shepard are worked to the last ditch by the stress of the mayoralty campaign. Shepard is not strong and the strain is telling on him. Only by the most careful conserving of his energies can he escape a complete breakdown. The program mapped out for both this week is strenuous, as the campaign managers are determined the race shall be wound up in a driving finish.

It will cost Greater New York more than one dollar for every vote cast in the coming municipal election. The new bureau of elections created by the last legislature will be tested for the first time. The expense of the department for the year will be about $600,000, and the political leaders estimate that upward of $600,000 votes will be cast.

The new election machinery is entirely divorced from the police department, and is controlled by a bipartisan board, a democrat and republican member being selected from both Brooklyn and Manhattan.

There are 1,537 election districts in the city, divided as follows: Manhattan, 806; Bronx, 92; Brooklyn, 526; Queens, 73; Richmond, 40. In each district there are four inspectors, who receive $5 for primary day, $7.50 for each day of registration and $12 for election day. The two poll clerks received $12 each, and the two ballot clerks $8 each for their work on election day. The rental paid for each polling place is $65.

The big items in the estimated cost of election are: 6,148 inspectors, $287,968; 3,074 poll clerks, $24,592; 1,537 polling places, $9,995; ballots and stationery, $120,000; salaries of bureau of elections, $90,000; total, $659,341.

STEIN WRITES TO LORD KITCHENER

London, Oct. 28.—A long letter written by ex-President Stein of the Orange Free States to Kitchener is published here today. He asserts that the Boer position is now better than it was after Prinz Louis surrendered a year ago. He adds "Your Excellency's jurisdiction extends only so far as your cannon can reach. During the year our cause has progressed wonderfully. There can be no thought of hopelessness."

Vessel-Loading Machine.

A new machine to load and unload grain, coal, iron, ore, etc., from vessels is being tried in New York harbor. It will necessitate the throwing of present machines in the scrap heap.

The new revolutionizer does tenfold more work than the old appliances, and only about the same number of men are required to work it.

STATE IS ORGANIZED

Milwaukee, Oct. 28.—A quick response greeted the mailing of the M'Kinley memorial circulars throughout this state. These circulars were received Saturday, and yesterday morning's mail brought a large number of encouraging letters and some remittances.

The Osseo Republican was first, with a remittance of $32, mailed within an hour of the receipt of the circular. With the check was a letter stating that the smallness of the sum was due to a desire to get in first, and that more would be forthcoming.

A communication was received from the Oshkosh Northwestern, stating it had opened its list and received contributions. Fifteen banks wrote, saying they would take the matter immediately in hand. But one subscription list having been mailed to each sub-committee, many have written asking for additional ones; several wanted ten.

Trustee Henry C. Payne of the M'Kinley Memorial association yesterday appointed committees in every county in the state. The members are

JANESEVILLE METHODISTS GREET NEW PASTORS WITH WARM WELCOME

The Rev. J. H. Tippett and the Rev. James Churn Made a Most Favorable Impression Upon Large Congregations in Their Churches Yesterday.

Two strangers stopped quietly in church in the city would be filled if their places as a part of this city's members would invite their ministerial force yesterday, and were neighbors to service. The church given a most cordial welcome by the does not need flaming posters and people over whom they have been sensational preaching. Doctors never called to preside as pastors. The advertise, quack do. Doctors cure earnestness with which they took up and every patient is a living advertisement. People go other hands, which have been called to church to be rested and inspired and every member should be a living advertisement.

The two preachers who will henceforth be identified with this city's church interests, are Rev. J. H. Tippett, who yesterday entered upon his duties as pastor of the Court street M. E. church and Rev. James Churn, the future pastor of the First M. E. church. Both pastors preached at the morning and evening services at their own churches and were heard by large congregations of members and friends of the churches.

Preacher and People

At the morning service at Court street church Rev. Tippett chose for his subject the timely topic, "Preacher and People." Rev. Tippett has a very pleasing manner in the pulpit. His voice is large, well-rounded and genial and his style is forceful, earnest and direct. His sermon was an able one and especially appropriate to the beginning of his pastorate in this city. Rev. Tippett prefaced his sermon with a few personal remarks, saying that he missed the familiar faces to which he had spoken for so many Sundays. He had come here, not exactly from choice, but because he was a Methodist minister and had been sent. He hoped to become acquainted speedily and would be glad to welcome the people to his home. He hoped to be welcomed to the homes of the people and wished to be considered a friend to all. He had come to this city, intending to do all the good in his power both in the church and in the community.

Calling of Peter from Joppa

The speaker then entered directly upon his morning sermon. The story of calling Peter from Joppa to Cesarea through the invitation of Cornelius, the centurion, as told in the tenth chapter of Acts, formed the central thought of his sermon, his text being found in the 29th verse, "Therefore came I unto you, without gainsaying, as soon as I was sent for; I ask therefore for what intent ye have sent me?" Peter's question was pertinent one and in no way impertinent. He had a right to ask why he had been sent to come to Cesarea. He was having a good time in Joppa, preaching to large congregations and enjoying visions of God such as he had never before had and it is not strange that he would like to have stayed.

In the midst of it all came the message calling him to Cesarea and possibly the thought came to him that the people had made a mistake and called the wrong man.

There was Paul recently converted and full of zeal and enthusiasm, John full of love and other men abler than he. Had they not made a mistake in sending for blundering Peter who often did the wrong thing?

So he asked what was their intent and they answered that they thought they were divinely instructed. Peter knew the Lord never made mistakes and if he had directed the people it was all right. But he also knew that people sometimes confound the divine voice with the human. Still Peter felt he could talk about Jesus Christ if he couldn't preach about anything else for he had been with Christ daily and knew him.

It is well to notice how Joppa had prepared Peter for Cesarea. Joppa was a small seaport, Cesarea a cosmopolitan city with streets thronged with people of all nationalities. If Peter's message took fire there, it would spread all over the world. Peter was not prepared for the work naturally. Peter was a Jew and was narrow; more than he was a Galilean Jew and was intensely narrow. Naturally he would construe the command to preach the gospel to the world to mean that the world was within the borders of Palestine. He was ignorant and narrow but he was growing. In Joppa he lodged with Simon, the tanner. No strict Jew would have done this. There he had the visions of the animals which taught him that the Jews were wrong in looking upon the Gentiles as common people beyond God's ken.

Peter was being prepared for a greater work. Honest work always fits for higher services. This is true in the secular world and it is equally true in the church of God. In some churches there are members who never do anything because they have an inflated sense of their own ability. They won't work in second place and they are not fit to work in first place. They are not able to shine like the sun and they won't twinkle like the star. Others are willing to do nothing or anything to render any service asked of them. There are many men in the church in positions to which they have never aspired because they have been faithful in small services.

Service on earth prepares for service in Heaven. Long ago the church gave up the idea of a Heaven of white robes, harps and waving palms, an eternity of doing nothing. Heaven is eternal growth, increasing knowledge and purer love.

There are some things worthy of note about Peter's congregation. It was a punctual one and was waiting for Peter to talk to them. It was not large numerically and did not meet in a synagogue. It was a congregation met together at the invitation of Cornelius. That is a good way to fill up the church. Every three acts lasting nearly three hours, so that playgoers get all the fun that is coming to them and their money's worth too. "The Irish Pawnbrokers" is a life-like delineation of the character of a New Yorker whose shop is designated by three gilded balls.

BOOKS AND MAGAZINES.

The Thanksgiving number of the Ladies' Home Journal is replete with good fiction and interesting and novel features. It opens appropriately with an article which tells "Where the President's Turkey Comes From." Then there are delightful stories by Hezekiah Butterworth, and Laura Spencer Porter, and a new love story called "Christians," by Frederick M. Smith. Cleveland Moffett has an interesting story about Ira D. Sankey, the great evangelist, and Edith King Swain recounts the famous ascents she has made in various parts of the world. Will Bradley's original designs for a house begin with this breakfast room, and Wilson Eyre Jr. presents plans for a country house and garden. Mr. Bok gives much good advice to young married couples in his editorial. Another most timely feature is "Why Should a Young Man Support the Church?" by the Rev. Francis E. Clark. Many home-made Christmas gifts are shown and the first of "The Journal's Amusing Puzzles" appear.

The people should pray for the preacher. Peter never addressed a more select congregation in his life for Cornelius led a band of blue-blooded Romans. Many think the gospel is for the poor only. The want of the present day is a mission to the rich. The gospel is not for a class but for every man. Peter preached a magnificent sermon in oratory, but after it the spirit of God descended on the people. How came he to preach so powerfully? Because he preached to a praying people. A prayerless church is a cold refrigerator. A prayerful church is Christ-full. Christ is ready to bestow blessings but he must be asked. The person who finds every possible excuse for not attending prayer meeting is not an aggressive Christian worker.

Peter also spent time in prayer. It would be a good thing for Christianity and a splendid thing for the church if the church would give their ministers time to get up on the house tops and pray. This is an age of bush, postal cards and telegrams, but people should make time for prayer for above all Christians need the presence of the redeeming one with them constantly.

Church Pleases First Church

Rev. Churn also created a most favorable impression with the people of the First M. E. church. He is a young man, full of fervor and earnestness and possesses a pleasant preaching voice.

Last evening he spoke ably on "The True Religion," finding his text in James 1, 27. "Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father in this to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction and to keep himself unspotted from the world."

People might look at the term religion from a general stand-point and find an echo from all the faiths andisms in the world. Many believe that true religion is attendance at public worship. The question "What is religion?" is as broad as the world and cannot be confined to one community. It touches all men because all men to some extent are religious. Man is a religious being. One man will say religion must be enthusiasm, another will step into the light quietly. Man's ideas of it differ but the Bible says religion is pure worship, benevolence and charity. Religion is not what is seen on the surface although that may be a manifestation of it. Religion is in the heart and wherever there is a heart to pray God has an ear to listen.

God points out two duties one to others and one to ourselves. The truly consecrated man is not self-centered but Christ centered. No one is so situated that he cannot reach out to help others. But there is a caution between the lines and we must remember our duty to ourselves and keep unspotted from the world.

Homo duties come first. People who scatter themselves all over, lose in intensity. We should first see that our own spiritual nature is developed and that we become equal, well-rounded and polished stones in the temple of Christ.

This verse does not mean that Christians should stand aloof. This is a beautiful world, the best God has ever made and it needs Christian people in it. It needs Christian men who are willing to go into politics and conquer the world for Christ. It needs men with more backbone, not cotton strings, who will stand square for righteousness. The church can put a mighty army in the field which shall conquer.

What is actual and pure worship? Wherever there is a heart that worships God, there is true religion exemplified. Every word of a hymn can be made worship. The foundation of all is Jesus Christ and he who builds upon Jesus Christ will find the pure religion.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

"The Village Parson," a domestic drama in five acts will be given at the Myers Grand Tuesday, Oct. 29. The play has been constructed in a most thorough manner, the plot being strong and exceptionally well conceived. The characters are in the most of an exacting kind, and calls for clever dramatic work from the members of the company. The piece is fitting companion to that beautiful drama, "Human Hearts," both being under the same ownership. In "The Village Parson" the most natural scenes and situations take place, and the story is so good and pure that it leaves a lasting and favorable remembrance. Completely staged with scenery absolutely unique in its arrangement, a thoroughly enjoyable performance may be looked forward to.

Its amusing absurdities specialties, songs, dances, pretty girls in gay gowns, special scenery and various effects form one of the strongest farce comedies ever offered. M'KINLEY MEMORIAL OFFERING

The following is the form of subscription blanks sent out by the National Memorial association.

The undersigned, residents of — State of Wisconsin, hereby subscribe the sum set opposite our names for the purpose of erecting a suitable memorial to the memory of our late lamented president, William McKinley, in accordance with the plans of the McKinley National Memorial association which contemplates a monument at Canton, and a suitable memorial at Washington.

PAN-AMERICAN FOLLY.

The old rule of paying for the music after the dance holds good with the Pan-American Exposition. The enterprise shows a deficiency of over $4,000,000, and the loss is distributed among a class of people that can ill afford to bear it.

The original stock was $2,500,000; much of it was placed in Buffalo and many of the subscribers were people of small means, who were induced to invest, both through local pride and a desire to make something on the investment.

When these funds were exhausted, $500,000 worth of bonds were issued, which found ready purchase among capitalists. A little later a second issue of the same amount was placed and when more money was needed the contractors were asked to wait for their pay. They have been waiting ever since, and are likely to continue to indefinitely.

The liabilities are represented by the two and a half billion stock, half of the first bond issue, all of the second and a million to the contractors. The assets, by a small balance in the hands of the treasurer, a lot of buildings, worth perhaps ten cents on the dollar, and a large amount of valuable experience that has no market value.

There ought to be some law to prevent this sort of extravagance. If the promoters of the Pan-American had possessed less enthusiasm, and more practical common sense, a forecast of results would have been readily determined.

St. Louis is now engaged in a similar enterprise and everybody who cannot afford the loss, will be called upon to pay the fiddler.

There is always a two-fold loss to this sort of a blowout, and both are disastrous. The first comes at the close of the enterprise, when many of the investors wake up to the fact that they are financially ruined.

The second, which is more serious, extends for a term of years, and injures, not only the city that furnishes the amusement, but thousands of citizens who invest all they possess, and all they can borrow, in a frantic desire to get rich quick. The mammoth hotel at Buffalo that opened with a single guest, is but one of a vast number of speculative schemes, equally visionary.

Philadelphia was twenty-five years in recovering from the folly of the centennial.

Chicago has just commenced to realize that she has miles of suburban property, that should be devoted to raising corn, and millions invested in World's Fair property, that isn't worth the taxes.

It is claimed that this class of exhibitions are educators, and entitled to encouragement on that account. Education is a good thing to have when honestly obtained, but when a man who is in debt, squanders time and money at other people's expense, to go on a junketing tour, the educational feature loses significance.

Thousands of visitors at Buffalo were in debt for the clothes on their back, and for grocery bills from three to six months old. Somebody paid the freight, but it wasn't the man who was out seeking a Pan-American education. The man behind the counter paid the bill and stayed at home and swore about extravagance. Some of these western merchants are swearing yet about the centennial, another feature of the folly, that has to do with the moral side of the question, and that does not conflict with the Midway, which is supposed to have a corner on morality.

Buffalo is entitled to more censure than pity. The city gave a dazzling show at a loss of $30,000 per night for six months. If she has anything to show for it but burnt powder, and cheap notoriety, it is not visible. There is no satisfaction in balancing the account by experience, because life is too short for another opportunity to repeat the folly.

St. Louis is too bull-headed to learn anything by observation, and she will go ahead with her own party, and let the fiddler take his chances on getting any pay for the music.

WITH THE CORPSE.

An exchange says that Mrs. Carl Wilcox was probably fatally injured while sitting up with the corpse of a friend. The day was warm but the night got cooler, and as she was alone she left the corpse to go upstairs to shut a window and stop a draught of air. She struck her head on a rafter and was felled to the floor, it is thought her skull is fractured. The patient is in great pain.

The lady is destined to sympathy and it is to be hoped that her injuries are not serious, but the young man who wrote the paragraph might better employ his time in "sitting up with the corpse" than telling about it in the columns of a newspaper. He might have gained a reputation as an undertaker in the rural districts, but he will never cause a conflagration in journalism.

Why didn't he enlarge upon the item of news, and say the attendant made a mistake in leaving the corpse alone while she went up stairs? If she had taken it along she would doubtless have been saved from accident.

Before the days of the modern undertaker, so well qualified to preside at funeral obsequies, that his services are in constant demand, it was customary for some friend of the family to assume responsibility, and no one was surprised to hear him say at the close of the service: "If you want to see the corpse, come this way."

The reporter doubtless believes in calling things by their right names. If he fails at undertaking his services may be in demand as an obituary editor of the old time persuasion.

SENSIBLE ADVICE.

The Evening Wisconsin recently published an editorial containing some sensible advice on "The Lesson of a Tragedy."

The sentiment was called out by the suicidal death of Mrs. Butler and her five year old son of Milwaukee, the paper claiming that the only proper place for care and treatment of insanity is in hospitals established and maintained for that purpose.

There is a great deal of false and unwise sentiment on this question as the result of family ties, and a sense of sacredness with which they are regarded.

The tragedy of starting suicide does not often result, but premature death from care and anxiety frequently follows.

The state has about 2,000 feeble minded people, many of them are children, and something like 500 of them are being intelligently cared for at Chippewa, and the number will be increased by half at an early date.

With Otjen after the hide tax and Babcock on the warpath against the duttons, the skeleton of a weak and irresponsible member of the family, is a source of constant care and anxiety. It means that the mother in these homes, so necessary to their comfort and happiness, is shortening the years of her life and usefulness in caring for a child whose intellect simply demands food and shelter, unable to recognize or appreciate that hand that ministers. It means to the father anxiety and needless worry, and to the entire home a pall that rests upon it like a dark, forbidding cloud.

All sentiment aside and no sacrifice of love the kindest thing, and infinitely the wisest, is to place this class of God's weak children, in homes provided for them by a generous hearted commonwealth.

What is true of the feeble minded is true in a larger sense of the insane. Many of them scattered over the state, are in homes. They are not only a care and burden, but frequently a menace to safety. The state has made wise and ample provision for them, and is supporting two of the best hospitals to be found anywhere. It were better for society, and the home, if both of these classes were placed beyond the reach of harm, where everything can be done for them in the way of care and treatment, that skill and science can suggest.

"Never to old to learn," is a good motto. Life is an open book and every page is covered with texts that are of practical value. The man who fails to study and observe, is never educated. He may carry around a head full of books, with a mind so vacant that it never grasps an event this side of Shakespeare and Byron. Books are the foundation. Men and things are the material for the structure. If you would build to a purpose, study both.

Frank Crane, the Methodist divine, who gained notoriety by lauding Emma Goldman recently, is about to graduate into the People's church, where freedom of thought and action is the established creed. Dr. Crane will be in his element, and Methodism will lose nothing by the transfer.

The president not only took a degree at Farmington, but he also took a little exercise in a cow pasture, that not only surprised the cows, but Deacon Barber, the owner, as well. The resident of the white house is equal to any emergency.

The Servant Girls' Union, of Chicago demands, among other things, that when their best young men call in the evening, that he shall not be molested by members of the family. That's a reasonable demand. The family ought to be satisfied with the parlor.

Football is likely to be dropped from the LaCrosse high school curriculum on account of a broken collar bone and other calamities. If the game can't be modified, it should be abolished. The prize ring is a prayer meeting, compared to the modern game.

Mrs. Taylor and her barrel won out at Niagara. The government will doubtless be asked to subsidize a fleet of barrels by a lot of foolhardy cranks who will argue that a merchant marine should be encouraged to open up navigation on the Niagara. Foreign competition is invited.

Chicago corporations, representing half a billion in capital, must pay taxes on capital stock, so says the supreme court. If the stock is not bonded to death, or too badly diluted by water, the decision is just.

A Michigan judge felt warranted in sentencing a lad of thirteen to states prison for life for murder. Wisconsin is not the only state that has incorrigible youths.

Admiral Schley is as much of a surprise to the board of inquiry as he was to Cervantes off Santiago.

Ten thousand acres of Texas cotton is ready to harvest, with no one to handle it. Texas struck oil last spring, and the cotton labor of the state is employed in the oil fields.

PRESS COMMENT.

Oshkosh Northwestern: It is estimated that the negroes in the south hold property valued at over $400,000,000. And still the old race prejudice in that section of the country demands that they be practically debarred from participation and representation in government.

We do not believe there is any truth in the rumor that the La Follette branch of the republican party is around purchasing the influence of wavering republican papers of the state, but if it is so, it would not be a bad idea for such papers to advocate an excursion to the capital city—Waukesha Pilot.

It is rumored that "Uncle" Isaac Stephenson is getting "tired" of the newspaper business and that the Martineau Star has been offered for sale recently. "Uncle" like ought not to get discouraged, there is more fun than a cage of monkeys in a whole lot of mischievous newspapers, and he can afford to pay for fun as well as any man in the state.—Milwaukee Journal.

With Otjen after the hide tax and Babcock on the warpath against the duttons, the skeleton of a weak and irresponsible member of the family, is a source of constant care and anxiety. It means that the mother in these homes, so necessary to their comfort and happiness, is shortening the years of her life and usefulness in caring for a child whose intellect simply demands food and shelter, unable to recognize or appreciate that hand that ministers. It means to the father anxiety and needless worry, and to the entire home a pall that rests upon it like a dark, forbidding cloud.

Nothing would please Wisconsin better than to see Hon. Henry C. Payne in the cabinet, and if his health permits and the vacancy occurs this event is very liable to happen.—Milwaukee Journal.

Governor La Follette is progressing so rapidly as an equestrian that it is hinted he will soon try riding the Republican League horseback.—Milwaukee Journal.

Oshkosh Northwestern: It is still a question as to whether Senator Depew considers his coming marriage the joke of his life or a serious effort towards reform. It is probable however that his bride-to-be believes the joke is on Chauncey this time.

Marquette Eagle: As all the American shipbuilding yards have contracts for a year ahead, a subsidy hardly seems necessary. Let well enough alone.

Fond du Lac Reporter: If the Hon. Ike Stephenson desire to dispose of his newspaper business in Wisconsin why doesn't the stewart crowd come to the rescue? Or did the Milwaukee Journal start the report in order to make some of the high salaried half-breed editors nervous?

Domestic Philosophy. "Papa," said the little one who is always asking puzzling question, "are there wise women, as well as wise men?"

"I believe there are, my son," was the reply.

"Well, does a wise man know more than a wise woman?"

"He may," answered the father; "in fact, I guess he generally does, but if he's wise and wants peace, he's mighty careful not to let her know it." Then as his wife was about to speak he hastily added: "I am not a wise man, my boy; I have just demonstrated that by my words."

This left her so puzzled that he managed to escape.

What They are Doing. "I wonder what has become of the bicyclists who used to go scorching along without regard to the safety or rights of others a few years ago." "Don't you know?" "No."

"Why they're running the automobiles. In the same old business you see."

IT WOULD BE TROUBLESOME.

"Now you ought not to complain," said the prosecuting attorney to the sheriff. "Of course, it's no great pleasure to have to hang people, but it might be worse. Suppose we were made like cats."

The sheriff gave a start.

"Nine lives!" he cried. "Great mackerel! I'd throw up my job. By gum! a fellow doesn't know how much he has to be thankful for till he stops to think does he?"—Chicago Post.

Miss Dunnegan was examined by Dr. Willard McChesney and Dr. Edward L. Shepard, of Edgerton, who reported to the effect that she was mentally unbalanced. Frightened on the Bridge

Considerable excitement was caused on the Milwaukee street bridge by Mrs. David Titus, of the town of Lima, who became badly frightened by what seemed to her an imminent collision. Mrs. Titus and her sister were driving on Milwaukee street on the left hand side of the bridge. A team and the street car were approaching from the opposite direction and Mrs. Titus thought her carriage would not have time to pass the other team before the street car reached them and she tried to jump out. Her foot caught in the lines and she was thrown forcibly to the ground. Her wrist was slightly injured and her leg and arm bruised but she was more frightened than hurt. She fainted away and was carried into the Maynard Shoe store. Being subject to heart trouble, her sister feared the fright might result fatally.

Fire in Opera House Block

An alarm of fire from box 24 this morning about ten o'clock called the department to the office of S. B. Kenyon, superintendent of the poor, on the second floor of the opera house block. A merry blaze caused by the explosion of a kerosene heating stove and the igniting of the oil, was quickly extinguished by the use of chemicals. A considerable place on the floor in the vicinity of the stove was burned but the damage was small. Prompt action on the part of the department prevented a disastrous fire.

DR. BROWN TO BUY HORSE FOR TEDDY

Well Known Former Janesville Veterinarian Supplying Good Horses to Men of Wealth.

Frank J. Brown received a letter from his brother Dr. C. E. Brown this morning written from New York, stating that he was there to purchase carriage team for President Roosevelt and also one for General Miles. This is quite an honor for Dr. Brown and speaks well for his ability. Dr. Brown is chief veterinarian in the quartermaster's department of the U. S. army at Washington, D. C., and has served in this capacity for over two years. He formerly practiced in Janesville some eight years ago and about a year before the Spanish-American war he went to Cuba from La Fayette, Ind., where he was then located to fight with the Cuban army. He was with General Maceo and knew him personally. In the battle called "The Mahogany Trees" between Cuban and Spanish forces he received a severe wound in the leg but recovered nicely and received a commission of major general in the Cuban army. Dr. Brown is an old scout and Indian fighter, having spent five years under General Miles in the west from 1870 to 1875. Dr. Brown was born in this city and grew to manhood here and many local people will be interested in these gleanings from his heroic career, his achievements in the army not being very generally known among his friends in this city.

QUERIES FOR W. S. SCHLEY

Cross-Examination of the Admiral
the Next Step.

COURT WILL TAKE A HAND.

Questioning by Attorney Rayner and the Judge Advocate May Occupy Two Days—Rayner Will Ask a Complete
Vindication of Schley.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The next step in the programme of the Schley court of inquiry is to place the "appellant" under examination by Mr. Rayner in order to bring out more strongly the points which he had made and to make clear the ones which he left obscure. In the cross-examination of Schley centers the greatest interest. The judge advocate has prepared a long list of questions which he means to ask the witness, and the court has in store many more on which it needs enlightenment. It was noted that during Schley's recountal of the Santiago campaign, which he gave during the two days he was on the stand, Admiral Benham wrote on slips of paper questions which the court will ask when the cross-examination has been concluded. It is estimated that it will require fully two days to complete the cross-examination. Then will follow these questions by the court, and probably another day will be consumed in redirect examination. This finished, witnesses will be called in rebuttal. By these the navy department will endeavor to show that Schley had received direct intimation that the Spanish squadron was in Santiago before he began his retrograde movement. This retrograde movement, the failure to destroy the Colon and the Hodgson correspondence now seem to be the points on which the navy department mostly relies to prove its case.

No Criticism of "Loop." As to the Brooklyn's "loop," that spectacular feature of the Santiago battle and the one which has been more widely discussed than any one of the ten precepts, it is pointed out by navy officers directly concerned in this investigation that whatever individual officers may have said, the department itself has never made any criticism of Schley for that maneuver. Secretary Long, in his letter, made no mention of it, and it is now known that he had early information that Cook and Schley had given the order—that Cook had regarded it as a good tactical move and that officers like Clark of the Oregon had approved it as such. It is claimed by the Admiral's friends here that Schley in his narrative of events very nearly demolished or satisfactorily explained the mass of testimony which had piled up against him concerning the other counts. In his examination of the witness Mr. Rayner hopes similarly to dispose of all the rest, and in his summing up will endeavor to show cause why his client should receive full vindication at the hands of the court, as he has already received it from the public.

Invitation from Louisville.

Louisville, Oct. 28.—A telegram signed by Mayor Weaver, Marion E. Taylor, president of the board of trade; Clarence Dallam, president of the Commercial Club, and others, has been sent to Rear Admiral Schley inviting him to visit Louisville after he has visited Chicago on invitation of the Hamilton club. Admiral Schley accepted an invitation to attend the triennial conclave of Knights Templar in Louisville in August last, but later found it would be impossible for him to be present.

RIXY REPORTS M'KINLEY CASE

Gangrene Cause of Death—Gives Every Detail of Patient's Progress.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—In the line of duty, while receiving the people, was shot by Leon F. Czolgosz, is the official statement filed with the surgeon-general of the navy by Dr. Presley M. Rixey, medical inspector, U. S. N., as the introduction for his report upon the wounding, illness and death of the late President McKinley. The cause of death is thus stated: "Gangrene of both walls of stomach and pancreas, following gunshot wound." The report itself is remarkable for its exhibition in the closest possible detail of the exact state of the patient during his illness. It is in the shape of a ship's log almost, showing at intervals of a very few minutes, sometimes a single minute, rarely more than an hour, the patient's progress toward the end. But perhaps the most valuable data contained from a medical point of view are the accurate records of the medication of the case—not a single morsel of food nor a dose of medicine or bath is omitted in this account. Included in the running story at the proper intervals are the bulletins which were given to the public as the case progressed.

Ferry Hit by Steamer. New York, Oct. 28.—The ferry boat College Point was rammed by the steamship Horatio Hall in the worst part of Hell Gate. The passengers, thrown by the shock of the collision, rushed around screaming and hunting for life preservers. For a time it seemed the ferry boat, which was crowded, would sink, and the panic increased until it was discovered the hole was a few inches above water line. The College Point was badly damaged. The College Point's crew shifted everything movable to the sound side of the boat, and with a resulting list, it made its way to College Point, where it tied up.

Twenty-Five Filipinos Killed. Manila, Oct. 28.—The constabulary report a fight with insurgents near Pasig, province of Iloilo, Island of Panay, in which twenty-five insurgents were killed and three captured, together with a quantity of arms and ammunition.

GROW ALL TOBACCO
IN THIS COUNTRY

Move to Grow All Filler Leaf in the United States—Hunt for a Suitable Location.

Calvin G. Hayner lives in New York and knows a lot about tobacco. He was at the Pfister Saturday and this is what he said to a Sentinel reporter:

"I am in the tobacco business for the good and sufficient reason that I believe the trade will yield unusually rich profits during the next two or three years. The indications are all favorable and I would not be at all surprised to see a genuine boom."

Now by way of illustration, take the trade in cigars. The demand for really good grades of cigars is steadily growing.

"I don't know if this means the average smoker is basking in the sunlight of financial prosperity or not, but I do know that he is paying more for his smoking material."

"The best selling cigars in both the west and the east are the various high grades of what is known as the 'three for a quarter.' Two years ago the popular demand was for nickel cigars, but now any retailer will tell you that higher grades sell the best. It is the same with cigarettes.

"Bad blood makes bad complexions. There is a steadily increasing demand for imported brands which command fancy prices and to my nation are not half as good as the standard domestic brands of cigarettes. Nevertheless the retail dealers are not complaining for there is a big margin of profit in the foreign goods."

Raises the Price of Sugar.

New York, Oct. 28.—The American Sugar Company has advanced grades of sugar from No. 6 to No. 16 five points. Arbuckle Brothers did not meet the advance. The advance was a surprise to the trade, as brokers have been making light of the reported oversales. There is a difference of opinion as to whether or not this advance means an advance very soon on the hard grades.

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 28.—A statewide convention was held here, every county, municipality and commercial organization in the Territory sending delegates. BAD BLOOD, BAD COMPLEXION.

The skin is the seat of an almost endless variety of diseases. They are known by various names, but are all due to the same cause, acid and other poisons in the blood that irritate and interfere with the proper action of the skin.

To have a smooth, soft skin, free from all eruptions, the blood must be kept pure and healthy. The many preparations of arsenic and potash and the large number of face powders and lotions generally used in this class of diseases cover up for a short time, but cannot remove permanently the ugly blotches and the red, disfiguring pimples.

*Eternal vigilance is the price

Mr. H. T. Shobe, 270 Lucas Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., says: "My daughter was afflicted for years with a disfiguring eruption on her face which resisted all treatment. She was taken to two celebrated health springs, but received no benefit. Many physicians prescribed various nostrums, but nothing would cure her. At last I decided to let in S. S. S., and at the time the first bottle was finished the eruption began to disappear. A dozen bottles cured her completely and left her skin perfectly smooth. She is now seventeen years old, and not a sign of the embarrassing disease has ever returned."

S. S. S. is a positive, unfailing cure for the worst forms of skin troubles. It is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and the only one guaranteed purely vegetable.

Bad blood makes bad complexions. Purifies and invigorates the old and makes new, rich blood that nourishes the body and keeps the skin active and healthy and in proper condition to perform its part in carrying off the impurities from the body.

If you have Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, or your skin is rough and pimply, send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases and write our physicians about your case. No charge whatever for this service.

ESCAPES BY MAD FLIGHT

Bandit Beats Down Detectives and Gets Away.

WILD CHASE AT NASHVILLE.

Steals Ice Wagon, Buggy and Saddle Horse and Kills Pursuing Bloodhounds—In Great Northern Holdup—Thrilling Battle in Tennessee Town.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 28.—A desperate man, shown by money he carried to be a train robber, beat down two detectives in a crowded store and after a thrilling chase escaped. In his race for liberty the man, flourishing two revolvers, captured an ice wagon, broke it to pieces in his wild flight; stole a horse and buggy, then a riding horse, and when that fell under him, continued his flight on foot, marking the trail with the bodies of two bloodhounds which were pursuing him. Officers believe the man is one of the gang that held up the Great Northern express near Wagner, Mont., last June, his attempt to get change for a $20 bill of the series secured in that robbery attracting the attention of the police to him. At 10:30 a. m., a raw-boned man, 5 feet 10 inches high, with florid complexion, offered the bill in payment of a small purchase made at a store in the business center of the city. Difficulty in making the change caused the salesman to closely notice the bill, which proved to be on the Montana bank to which the stolen bills were consigned.

Fights Way to Street.
The police were quietly notified, the clerks meanwhile delaying the matter of change. Detectives Dwyer and Dickens were soon on hand and, approaching the man, demanded "his name." "Ferguson," was the reply, and, after another question or two, Detective Dwyer informed the man he was under arrest. Quick as a flash Ferguson had a revolver in each hand and started for the door. A hand-to-hand fight ensued, both detectives grappling with the stranger, who proved more than a match for them. Using his pistols as clubs he fought his way to the door and fled down the street.

Escaped in Ice Wagon.
A passing ice wagon caught his attention, and the three negro occupants were soon out of his way. Then, at a terrific clip, the wagon was headed across the Cumberland river bridge into East Nashville, a fusillade of shots following it. Out Woodland street went the flying team, but a sudden turn into First street brought it to grief. One of the horses fell and broke his leg, but the fugitive was not to be delayed. Running across First street, he held up an old negro who was driving by in a buggy, and the flight was continued. Out into the commons he sped. Once the buggy overturned, but was quickly righted. Finally the tired horse was abandoned and after a dive into Shelby Park on foot the supposed bandit secured another horse, hitched at a point near the park. Then, after a wild ride, the horse was left and the flight continued on foot.

Kills Pursuing Bloodhounds.
Further out the pursuers found two of the bloodhounds used in the chase shot to death a short distance apart, and after that the trace of the man was lost. The sheriff, with a large posse, is out scouring the country for the missing man. When the buggy was abandoned the man threw away a wallet containing $1,040 in $10 and $20 bills of the Montana bank. Chief of Police Curran now has the money.

Fines for a Gas Company.
Peoria, Ill., Oct. 28.—Judge Puterbaugh found the Peoria Gas Light and Coke company guilty of three charges in the quo warrant proceedings instituted some months ago and fined them $50 for selling outside the city limits, $250 for a discrimination in prices of illuminating and fuel gas and $250 for charging an exorbitant price for illuminating gas. The fourth count, conspiracy in illegally combining with another company, was dismissed, as there was no evidence showing such combination. This will probably end the matter, as the gas company has rearranged its schedule in harmony with the law.

Values a Husband at $350.
Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 28.—An important case came to a close here when a jury in the circuit court brought in a verdict in favor of Myrtle Hunter, who sued Saloon Keeper Nelson for damages for the loss of her husband, Melvin Hunter. The woman charged in her complaint that Nelson by giving liquor to her husband caused his death. Hunter died of pneumonia which resulted from exposure while intoxicated. She was given judgment for $350.

Bankers Are Under Arrest.
Eufaula, Ala., Oct. 28.—President S. H. Dent and Cashier E. B. Young of the Eufaula National Bank, which failed a few days ago, were arrested here in connection with a deposit of $50,000 in Alabama state bonds, which ex-Governor Oates is said to have had in the bank in a private box at the time of the failure. The prisoners were taken to Montgomery.

Kills Wife and Himself.
Chicago, Oct. 28.—Maddened by the report that his wife, from whom he had separated, was going to secure a divorce and marry again, James Kennedy killed her and then ended his life by sending a bullet into his left temple. The tragedy occurred at the residence of Mrs. Annie Barrett, mother of Mrs. Kennedy.

Andrew Carnegie gave $100,000 for a library at San Juan.

BRIGANDS NOW IN TURKEY.

Miss Stone's Captors Said to Have Been Located.

New York, Oct. 28.—Three reports, each corroborative of the other, have been received from widely different sources concerning the movements of the brigands who hold Miss Ellen M. Stone and Mme. Tsalka captives, according to the Sofia (Bulgaria) correspondent of the World. One is that the band, which consisted of eighteen men, has been dissolved in the mountains near Jeltepe and that fifteen of the members have returned to their homes. The remaining three members are said to have been made custodians of the prisoners, and it is said that they are holding them in the wooded recesses of Jeltepe, which is in Turkish territory about twenty miles into the mountains from the Bulgarian frontier.

Sold to Be Near Nerokup.
Another version of the situation is that because of the early and heavy fall of snow in the mountains, the brigands, with their prisoners, have come down from the mountains and are now located near Nerokup, which is in the foothills of the mountains in which Jeltepe is located. The third report comes from Constantinople and is to the effect that communication has been opened with the brigands from a point in Turkish territory.

Sarafoff Makes Statement.

Minister of Interior Sarafoff of Bulgaria has made the following statement to a Sofia (Bulgaria) correspondent concerning the case of Miss Stone: "If I could send my troops across the Turkish border I would find Miss Stone within two days. I have just received word from the commander of our troops that Miss Stone is not in Bulgarian territory. We have three military cordons moving toward the frontier, and on the frontier itself I have placed a military guard. If the brigands were on our territory the cordons would certainly find them. Ours and the Turkish troops are now searching in the Perin mountains, where, unlike Bulgaria proper, there are no villages and only a few scattered houses in the mountains. If my troops find the brigands we will make short work of them."

Minister Mason at Sofia.

London, Oct. 28.—A dispatch to the Morning Leader from Sofia says that Mr. Mason, United States consul-general in Berlin, arrived there Tuesday, accompanied by William E. Curtis of Washington.

Dickinson to Pay Ransom.

Sofia, Oct. 28.—Hopeless of obtaining the release of Miss Stone through the Bulgarian government, and fearful lest further delay prove fatal to her, Consul-General Dickinson has begun direct negotiations with the brigands who hold the woman missionary prisoner to effect her release. The representative of the United States is now at Samakov. This is fifty miles south of Sofia, in the heart of the Balkan mountains, near the scene of the capture of Miss Stone, and close to the headquarters of the brigands. Mr. Dickinson will send word to the brigands that the United States government is ready to pay $100,000 for the release of Miss Stone and her safe delivery to a place agreed upon.

PRESIDENT TO WRITE MESSAGE

Cabinet Members Will Make No Contributions to Document.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—All members were present at the meeting of the cabinet today. Little business of importance was transacted, but there was a general discussion of matters pertaining to different departments. The president discussed various features of his forthcoming message to congress, and also appointments that are to be made within a short time.

The consultations between the president and his cabinet officers were especially full, owing to the decision which Mr. Roosevelt has reached to write all of his own message to Congress, and to do it on original lines. Heretofore the secretary of state has written that portion covering foreign relations and the other cabinet officers have contributed chapters on their respective departments. The president has determined to do away with this detailed statement of the affairs of each department. He will devote his message to only such topics as he chooses to lay particularly before the attention of congress, leaving the reports of the cabinet officers to acquaint congress with the details of administration.

Secretary Hay referred to the case of Miss Stone, and in answer to questions told of messages received today from Consul Dickinson at Sofia and Charge Spencer Eddy at Constantinople, which threw no light on the present hiding-place of the woman.

Outline of Message.
New York, Oct. 28.—The President's message is nearly finished and Mr. Roosevelt has informed the members of his cabinet that he will read it to them for criticism. In the present week, says a Washington dispatch to the New York Herald, Mr. Roosevelt will make a general statement of the necessity for reciprocity, but it is understood that he will not make a special recommendation of the treaties negotiated. He will devote part of his message to trusts, the merchant marine, the navy, and the Isthmian canal. In addition to these Mr. Roosevelt is expected to urge the maintenance of the status quo in the Philippines and the enactment of more stringent immigration laws, which will enable the exclusion of undesirable aliens and the re-enactment of the Chinese exclusion act.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Maddened by the report that his wife, from whom he had separated, was going to secure a divorce and marry again, James Kennedy killed her and then ended his life by sending a bullet into his left temple. The tragedy occurred at the residence of Mrs. Annie Barrett, mother of Mrs. Kennedy.

HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE.

Young Man Arrested for Poisoning Mother and Brother.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 28.—Lying unconscious in their home in this city, Mrs. Rebecca Webb and her son Charles were found by neighbors evidently suffering from slow corrosive poisoning. The young man died in the night, his mother cannot live, and his brother, U. G. Webb, who, it is alleged, was ordered from home several days ago, is under arrest. His sister Cora, aged 20, who had been in the house with the victims, who had been sick since Friday noon, is under police surveillance. She says her mother and brother became very sick after eating dinner Friday, and claims she was also taken ill and was unable to rise until morning.

Sold to Be Near Nerokup.

TIME IN CENTRAL AFRICA.

Hours of the Day Counted from Sun-rise to Sunset.

Miss Allen, of Uganda, Central Africa, writes a letter from that far-off mission station, which explains the system of keeping time among the natives, and, incidentally, throws new light on the Jewish system during the period of Christ's crucifixion. Among other things she says: "The people here constantly come and ask us what o'clock it is. They have no clocks or watches themselves and can only judge of the hour by the look of the sun. I always have to calculate before I can answer, because they count their hours just as the Jews did when our Lord was on earth. Seven o'clock in the morning they call one o'clock, and so on through the day, so that six in the evening is twelve o'clock to them. They count the hours of the day from sunrise to sunset. You remember, in the account of the Crucifixion, the writers say that there was darkness over the land from the sixth to the ninth hour, that is, from twelve to three. The people here understand this saying perfectly. The native clergyman here has a cheap American clock, which was given him by Miss Taylor, and he sends his boy with it nearly every morning for us to set right, as it goes very badly. At first I could not make out why at eight in the morning this clock pointed to two." —Ram's Horn.

Presence of Mind Saved Him.

A side-whiskered little English waiter was unusually attentive to the Cleveland bridal couple, who were just returning from their honeymoon tour through Canada. It was on a boat between Lewiston and Toronto and they were having supper. The Englishman was the most attentive waiter the happy bridal pair had ever seen, and scarcely left the guests' side while the meal was in progress. After the bride and groom had had their dip in the finger bowl and felt at peace with all the world, the groom handed the waiter a bright new nickel. The waiter first carefully inspected it, then held it up high in the air between two fingers. Finally his lips parted and loud enough to be heard by everybody in the dining-room, he said: "Better keep this coin, sir; you might need it for the baby." The Cleveland man was nonplussed for a moment, but he soon recovered his equilibrium, and, taking the nickel from the waiter's hand, said: "That's so, I most forgot I was married." —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Where Opals Come From.

Formerly most opals came from Hungary, and more recently from Mexico. In 1889 an Australian hunter, while pursuing a wounded kangaroo, found an opal. Since that time Australia has yielded nearly $2,000,000 worth of opals.

His Pun Shocked Him.
Oscar Hammerstein can be found almost any night sitting on a chair outside his theater on Seventh avenue. He was enjoying a cigar there the other evening when he was approached by an actor who had been employed by him, but who had been on a long debauch, and who, in the parlance of the profession, "looked every bit the part, too." Hesitatingly he asked Mr. Hammerstein if he would lend him $5, promising he would use it to sober up and get himself back to his old self. Mr. Hammerstein gave him the requested amount, and after profuse expressions of gratitude the actor remarked: "Mr. Hammerstein, this is the most lucid moment I have had in a month." "I guess this is a 'lose it' moment for me, too," replied Mr. Hammerstein. Then he looked guiltily around, but he had been heard.—New York Times.

New Line for the Lakes.
Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 28.—A new crosslake transportation line has been established, which will give competition between this city and Benton Harbor and St. Joseph. It will be operated in connection with the Indiana, Illinois & Iowa railroad and the Big Four road. Docks and warehouses have been secured. The first boat to sail will be the steamer Moore, which will leave on its initial trip to Benton Harbor Tuesday. The new line will make a large bid for the Michigan fruit business next summer.

Front Rank in Agriculture.

Ziegler Clothes Are The Best

better than any other ready-to-wear clothes in the market, and superior to much that is made-to-measure. The wholesale tailoring processes through which our clothes are put, enable the makers to produce them at a price that is little, if any, in excess of the cost of the general run of ready-to-wear clothing. The difference in price to the wearer is scarcely worth talking about, but the difference in the satisfaction and service is so immense, that one must indeed be wastefully inclined if he buys any other make of clothing when he can get Ziegler's.

We can only illustrate the truth of our foregoing statement by an ocular demonstration. Let us show you our new Autumn and Winter styles.
